

RCCP Guidance for Application Pathways

This guidance exists for applicants in each of the modalities and clarifies the 3 main pathways (A, B and C) to join the register and one pathway (D) to return to practice. It is based on the review completed in November 2019 and subsequent discussion at PSE committee meetings and RCCP Board meetings. Professional body input was provided through the PSE committee membership.

Application pathway structure from September 2020

A. Graduate pathway

The graduate pathway consists of two routes: that of a student on an accredited pathway and a graduate from an accredited pathway. In essence this means that a student has two options. They can apply for a student application and convert to graduate application once they complete an accredited programme or they can wait until they graduate from an accredited programme and apply via the graduate route. The student pathway exists to encourage students to sign up while studying, to ease the conversion on graduation. The time limit for this conversion is one year from graduating. The student register will not be accessible to the public and on conversion, the registrant's status will be changed to ensure they are visible on the public register.

The student will contact the RCCP to indicate that they have graduated, and their name will be checked against the pass list provided annually by the HEI offering the course. If confirmed, the RCCP admin team can convert the application. Graduates without RCCP student status will be required to complete the online form and their name will be checked against the pass list. The documents provided by the student/ graduate applicant will include:

- Certificate and transcript (in some instances the students will only be able to provide a transcript i.e., Postgraduate Diploma).

Note: Student will be removed from the student register should they not apply for the conversion. Information will be collected in relation to why they did not register, via a deregistration form.

B. Clinician (from an accredited pathway)

This pathway applies to clinicians who completed a recognised and RCCP accredited United Kingdom course and are applying to the RCCP register more than 1 year after completing it. This can include historical as well as new courses. These applications require review by a trained assessor to determine eligibility.

The documents provided by the applicant will include:

- Information about Employment (both current and past)
- Certificate and transcript
- Clinical Reference (from the Head of Service or the person they are clinically accountable to)

C. Clinician (from a non-accredited pathway)

This pathway applies to all applications that do not fulfil the requirements of pathways A and B. It can include but is not limited to:

1. International applications
2. Equivalence applications
 - Applicants from non RCCP accredited Healthcare Science degrees (graduate)
 - Non-standard qualification plus experience – typically a 6-year route

1. International applications

This pathway applies to applicants who completed a clinical physiology training pathway outside of the United Kingdom and are intending to apply for suitable employment or who are already employed within the UK. All applications are reviewed on an individual basis.

International applicants can apply for full status if deemed eligible and these applications require review by a trained assessor to determine eligibility.

The documents provided by the applicant will include:

- Information about Employment (both current and past)

- Certificate and transcript (providing overview of theoretical and practical content)
- Clinical Reference

International applicants will also be asked to state whether English is their first language or not. The ability to communicate effectively in English is crucial to working as a health professional in the UK. In cases where English is not their first language, applicants will be asked to provide evidence of language proficiency. We accept the following certificates of English language proficiency, providing they are no more than two years old when the application is received.

INTERNATIONAL ENGLISH LANGUAGE TESTING SYSTEM (IELTS)	7.0 with no element below 6.5
TEST OF ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE (TOEFL) Internet Based Test (IBT)*	Minimum score of 100/120

*We cannot accept any TOEFL test score undertaken in the United Kingdom (taken from HCPC).

Exemptions to language certification

Every international applicant must provide a certificate, unless you are:

- a national of a relevant European state other than the UK;
- a national of the UK who is seeking access to, or pursuing, a profession by virtue of an enforceable community right;
- a person who is not a national of a relevant European state but who is, by virtue of an enforceable community right, entitled to be treated no less favourably than a national of a relevant European state; or
- a native English speaker, for whom English is their first language.

English as a first language

You can declare that English is your first language, meaning you don't have to provide certification. This must only be done if it is the main or only language that you use on a day-to-day basis. Having studied English or undertaken higher education that was taught in English is not sufficient to claim that English is your first language. We may ask for further evidence if you claim that English is your first language, and you are not from a majority English-speaking country.

It is possible that the international course does not completely map to the United Kingdom recognised pathways and these applicants can be advised to consider applying through the equivalence pathway, but the language requirement still remains where applicable.

2. Equivalence applications

Applicants from non RCCP accredited Healthcare Science degrees

A number of BSc (Hons) Healthcare Science Clinical Physiology degrees are not accredited by the RCCP, but they are accredited by the National School of Healthcare Science (NSHCS).

These graduates can acquire provisional registration as soon as they graduate from their course. This can be converted to full registration at the end of one year of clinical practice. This will require a letter from the registrant's Head of Service to confirm that they are working at the required level. These applications will require review by a trained assessor to determine eligibility.

The documents provided by the applicant will include:

- Certificate and transcript
- Reference from Head of service/employer after one year of registration.

This pathway will depend on the timing of application and if graduates apply more than one year of graduation the process will follow that of a clinician from an accredited pathway (Standard - see route B).

Non-standard qualification plus experience – typically 6-year route

This route will apply to clinicians working in the United Kingdom who have not completed a recognised RCCP accredited pathway. This route typically requires a minimum of 6 years training and experience in the UK, with evidence provided to indicate competent practice and underpinning knowledge, which is assessed by trained scrutineers. The 6 years typically include any relevant education and clinical practice.

Applicants will need to provide a reference from their employer supporting their level of competence.

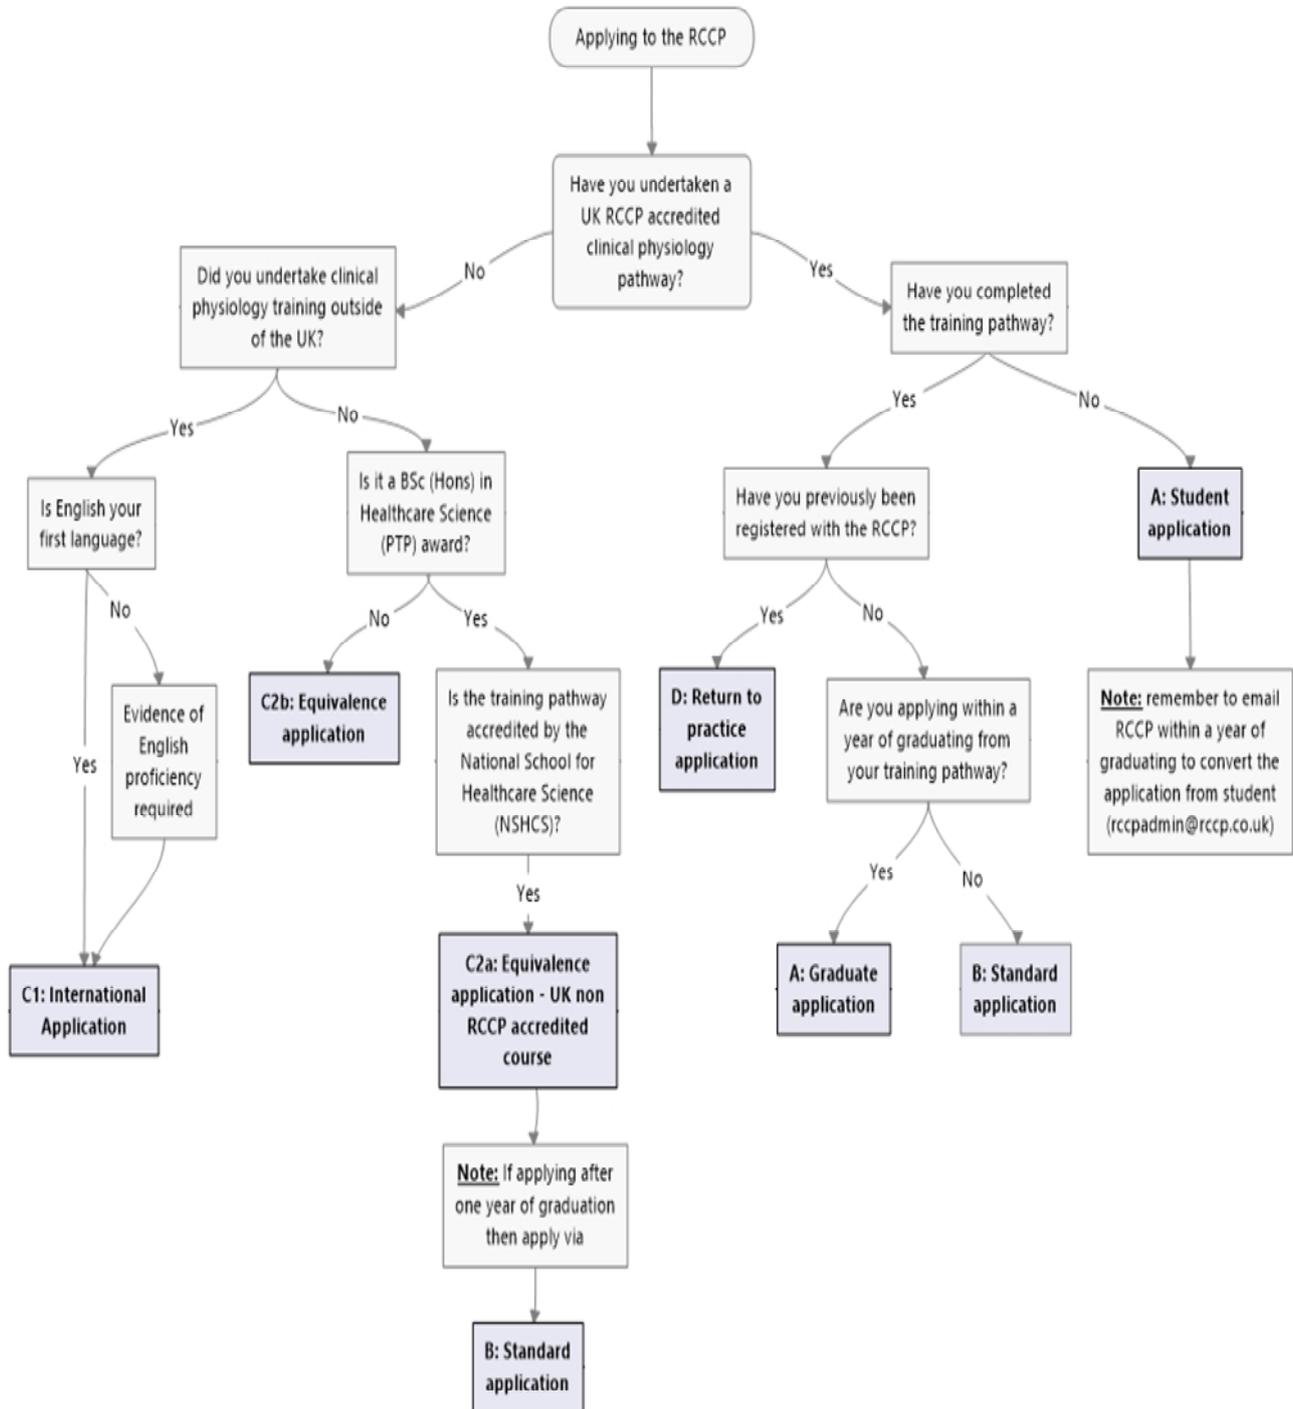

The documents provided by the applicant will include:

- Relevant certificates and transcripts
- Evidence of clinical experience related to the modality in question.
- Reference from Head of service/employer

D. Return to practice application

This pathway applies to previous registrants who wish to reactivate registration. Applicants will follow the RCCP return to practice pathway.
